Easter Sunday Was Anything But a Day of Rest for Them

Farm-Population-Increase Ranges From Swarm of Bees, New Chicks, and New Calf, to a Brand New Grandson!

Editor The Star: After reading different things that occurred on Easter Sunday I have decided to write a small sketch of what occurred at my home.

I doubt if anything just like it ever occurred anywhere before, and it would do to put in the "Believe It or Not" section.

The first thing that occurred was at noon Easter Sunday. We lived two swarms of bees—which made three swarms from the same hive in four days.

The next happening was that a hen hatched 12 chickens. Then the next thing that occurred was a baby boy born to my son and his wife.

And the next morning there was a baby calf in our cow pen. Where is there any one who can beat this for increase? Would you call this a case of quintuplets?

Dr. Cannon says that anyway the bees are triplets. A. C. MOODY April 27, 1935 Hope Route One.

Three Are Held in Burning of Hotel

Confession Reported in $40,000 Blaze at Poca-hontas, Ark.

POCAHONTAS, Ark.—(AP)—Three persons who were taken into custody Sunday after a fire which destroyed the Hotel Randolph with a $40,000 loss were removed from Poca-hontas Monday for safekeeping in jails elsewhere.

Sheriff John Thompson said that in addition to Pauline Gearhart, 17, who admitted firing the building, that two men relatives of the girl are in custody.

Ben Dame, Miss Gearhart's brother-in-law, was taken to Little Rock for further questioning. Miss Gearhart and Lige Dame, Jr., were taken out of Poca-hontas Monday morning and lodged in unannounced jails nearby.

Sheriff Thompson said Ben Dame was taken into custody on the statement of Miss Gearhart that she fired the hotel at his instructions as he "was supposed to get a lot of money out of it."

Quick Investigation. POCAHONTAS, Ark.—The Hotel Randolph, one of the finest hostleries in this section, valued at $40,000, was destroyed by fire early Sunday.

Before noon, officers said that they had obtained a confession from a young woman that she applied the match which set the building on fire and Sunday night they obtained a confession from Lige (Jack) Dame, Jr., that he also was implicated in the crime, they said. The young woman is Miss Pauline Gearhart, 17, a sister-in-law of Dame. Ben Dame, an uncle of Jack, is under arrest suspected of implication.

Ben Dame occupied the room in which the fire started, Friday night and Saturday night, officers said. The Gearhart girl occupied a nearby room, they said. The girl told officers that she had been "instructed" by Ben Dame to burn the hotel.

Both the Dame's—uncle and nephew—have prison records. Ben served a term in the federal penitentiary for counterfeiting and a term in the Arkansas prison for the murder of Bill Decker here in 1924. Bill Decker was the father of Earl Decker, now serving a penitentiary sentence for the murder in 1931 of the Marshal Manley Jackson. Ben's brother, Lige Dame, also is serving a penitentiary sentence in connection with the Jackson murder.

The building was owned by F. Spina, newspaper. He carried only a small amount of insurance, he said.

Fight at Luck's Court Is Denied

Hollis Luck Declares There Was No Disturbance Friday Night

A reported disturbance at Luck's Tourist Court last Friday night was branded as false Monday by Hollis Luck, proprietor.

Sheriff Jim Bearden was quoted by The Star as saying that the alleged disturbance led to seizure of two slot machines at Luck's Saturday morning.

Mr. Luck did not deny the slot machine charge but declared that the seizure of a fight was erroneous. In a statement to The Star Mr. Luck said: "There was no disturbance, fight, fuss or racket of any kind at my place of business last Friday night. The report is absolutely false, and has caused me much humiliation and embarrassment."

Germany to Use Sub Plans as Ace in Naval Parley

Hitler Government Places Order, But Delays Construction

UP TO THE ENGLISH

France Will Abide by Whatever Britain Decides as to Sea Power

By the Associated Press. A Berlin source admitted Monday that the German government had placed orders for "a number of submarine boats" with various German shipbuilders.

Other indications in Germany were that actual construction is being held in abeyance pending the forthcoming Anglo-German naval conference.

An authoritative Paris source said that France considered Germany's sea rearmament to be Great Britain's matter—indicating that France will go along with Great Britain and Italy on a united naval front.

A "powerful" naval and airplane base has been constructed on the North Sea by Germany, the London Herald said Monday.

"Despite the usual denial in Berlin," the Herald maintained "the complete accuracy of its reports that Germany not only contemplates building submarines but actually has a number in the course of construction."

The Herald was one of two London newspapers which carried original articles regarding alleged German submarine building which later were substantiated in authoritative London quarters. Both it and the News-Chronicle said that twelve 250-ton U-boats are under construction by the Reich.

TEXARKANA, Ark.—(AP)—A sister of Sam Day, one of the two trusty convicts who had successfully evaded capture Sunday after their escape from Tucker prison farm Saturday, appealed to her brother to "get in touch with me immediately."

Miss Anna May Day, hotel employee, and sister of the fugitive convicted of slaying Sheriff Walter Harris, submitted this statement to the Texarkana Gazette.

"To Sam Day, wherever you are. Get in touch with me at Texarkana by letter or telephone or wire. It is very important that you get word to me."

Refusing to amplify her statement, Miss Day said she wished to talk with her brother as soon as possible.

Wilson Rehearing Denied to State

Supreme Court Refuses to Reconsider Bradley Arson Reversal

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—The state Monday was denied a rehearing in the case against Ben F. Wilson, whose 3-year sentence for arson in Bradley county was reversed by the Arkansas Supreme Court some weeks ago and sent back for a new trial.

Wilson's reversal, followed conviction of Charles Croson and Jesse Hutson, white, and Chris Wheaton, negro, all of Hope, was obtained on the grounds that a man could not be convicted on the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice.

Reversing the Sebastian county chancery court, the supreme court held Monday that Art 21 of 1933 provided "only a reasonable period" in which chancellors might reorder a mortgage foreclosure sale.

The justices' opinion of the meaning of the act was, that if the foreclosed property did not bring "a fair price" when its intrinsic value was considered, and it was made to appear that a better price could be obtained from a resale, the court should direct that the property be offered at such resale, "otherwise not."

New Orleans. NEW ORLEANS.—(AP)—Cotton futures started the new week from nine to 10 points lower as scattered selling in the early dealings failed to find adequate buyers.

Opening one hour earlier in order to conform to daylight saving time at New York, the market here sold off around 30 cents a bale and then held in a narrow range at these levels.

Reports of the cotton belt combined with general uncertainty over the world silver situation tended to restrict speculative sentiment.

Quota of 4,000 Is Set for Seventh Corps Area This Summer

OMAHA, Neb.—Due to an increase in the appropriations for Citizens' Military Training Camps, 4,000 young men, or more than twice as many as were trained last year, will be given an opportunity to attend a C. M. T. C. camp in the Seventh Corps Area this year. The Seventh Corps Area consists of the states of North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas.

The camps will be held as follows: Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, July 2 to July 31, for Basics and Infantry; Fort Snelling, Minnesota, July 3 to August 1, for Basics, Infantry, and Field Artillery; Fort Lincoln, North Dakota, July 10 to August 8, for Basics and Infantry; Fort Riley, Kansas, July 10 to August 8, for Basics and Infantry; Fort Belknap, Nebraska, July 10 to August 8, for Basics, Infantry, and Cavalry; Camp Pike, Arkansas, July 23 to August 21, for Basics and Infantry; Fort Crook, Nebraska, and Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, August 1 to August 30, for Basics and Infantry.

An encampment lasts thirty days and all necessary expenses are paid by the government. Uniforms, lodging, food, laundry service, and medical care are furnished without expense to the candidate, and travel expenses are refunded by paying candidates, upon arrival at camp, the travel allowance of five cents per mile for the distance from their homes to the nearest camp. The game allowance is paid for the return travel the day the candidates leave camp. There are also offered without charge many amusements and recreational facilities, such as baseball, tennis, swimming, dancing, movies, and "local talent" vaudeville shows and dramatics.

No obligations for future military service of any kind is incurred by those who attend these camps, but those who complete the four courses, Basic, Red, White, and Blue, may go before an examining board and take an examination for appointment as second lieutenants in the Officers' Reserve Corps.

These camps have been in existence since 1921 and are known to thousands of young men and their parents as builders of health and Americanism as well as a means of spending an enjoyable summer.

Third Party Urged by 'Holiday' Group

Reno's Organization Backs It—But Upton Sinclair Disagrees

DES MOINES, Ia.—(AP)—The National Farmers' Holiday association Sunday advocated foundation of a third party after a stormy business session in which a group of alleged Communists were ousted by Milo Reno, national president.

The resolution presented by a committee of the association called upon farmers and laborers to join in the move for the third party. It was approved by the convention. The action reversed previous assertions of leaders disclaiming any intention of forming a third party.

During the convention both Reno and Senator Huey Long of Louisiana verbally lambasted the national Democratic administration.

"It is the opinion of the Farmers' Holiday association that a national political party expressing the desires of farmers and laborers be formed at once," the resolution said.

"To this end we ask that all leaders of progressive groups meet in conference at the earliest opportunity to lay the foundations for the building of a third party."

The Holiday association offered the co-operation of its officers in formulating the third party conference with the provision, however, "that the Holiday association itself shall not become a political party."

A further political aspect was injected into the picture when a message from Upton Sinclair, defeated Democratic candidate for governor in California, was announced.

Calling upon farmers, workers and unemployed to "capture the Democratic party in a majority of states," Sinclair urged against formation of a third party. "The same amount of educational and political labor needed to bring people into a third party will bring them into the Democratic party with a new program and for a new purpose," Sinclair said, in his letter addressed to the Holiday association.

The DARK BLOND

by CARLETON KENDRAKE © 1935 NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MILLENCE GRAY, secretary to GEORGE DRINGOLD, finds her chauffeur in his office dead. JARVIS HAPP, a stranger, offers to help her. He sends her to a beauty shop where she is transformed into a beauty. Then he takes her home, introducing her as his secretary. She meets HARRY H. HENNING, his stepson, ROBERT CAISE, MRS. HARRY DICK GENTRY, HARRY's mother, and VERA DUCHENE, Mrs. HARRY's maid.

In Harry's home Millicent sees the mysterious woman in black, the woman whom she believes is some connection with Dringold's death.

The chauffeur is found dead. Later HARRY is kidnapped. Millicent and Norman learn the car driven by the woman in black belongs to PHYLLIS PAUL COHEN. They go to her apartment and Millicent finds the missing suitcase of books. She discovers a shortage of $200,000 to Gentry's account.

Norman tells Millicent he loves her and wants to marry her. They send the liquor store clerk to call on Phyllis Paul to see if she is the one who bought the whisky found in the dead chauffeur's room. He reports she is not.

Norman decides to pay Phyllis Paul a visit.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XI

NORMAN said, "I'm not going to expose you to the danger of going to the apartment, Millicent. It makes no difference what you may say, this is once I'm going to keep you out of danger."

"Please," she told him, placing her hand on his arm. "Please, Norman. Let me go with you. If there's danger, let's face it together."

"No," he said. "You've had more than your share."

He signaled a cab and gave the address of the apartment house.

Millicent pleaded with him, to no avail. He remained firm in his decision.

When they had arrived at the apartment house he gave the cab driver $2. told him to drive Millicent around the corner, park the cab and wait.

"But, Norman," she said, "please let me go with you. I'll feel ever so much safer."

"No," you're going to stay here. That's settled."

"Then promise me you won't take any chances. Don't go in the apartment. Stay in the hallway."

He laughed reassuringly. "There's just a lone woman there," he pointed out, "and I want to ask her some questions. She may answer them and she may not, but she certainly isn't going to harm me. She can't slice off my head with a meat cleaver or pitch me out of the window or..."

"Please, Norman," she protested.

He pinched her arm and said, "Don't be a goose, Millicent. You've been in 10 times as much danger as I could possibly encounter in going to this apartment."

"But there might be someone else there."

"If there is," he told her, "it will be Bob Caise or Dick Gentry, and if either of those birds tries to get rough with me I wouldn't want anything better than to give them a punch in the jaw."

"But, Norman, they may be armed. If they're mixed in this thing they're desperate, and..."

"Oh, booby!" he told her. "I can take care of myself. Don't worry about that. What's bothering me is the idea of leaving you here alone."

U. S. May Build a Canadian Air Base

But It Is Unlikely to Violate Century-Long Peace Policy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A "canon-flayed" provision for powerful air base near the Canadian border was disclosed Sunday to have been written into the Wilcox air base bill as drafted by the War Department.

Brig. Gen. Charles E. Kilbourne, assistant chief of staff in charge of war plans, put the language into the bill already approved by the House Military committee which designates six other strategic air bases for consideration in creating defensive aviation centers.

As framed by Representative Wilcox, Democrat, Florida, the bill proposed a base in the Great Lakes region, but the clause was eliminated after Kilbourne said:

"We would like to put one close to the Great Lakes but we must avoid going too far in establishing new military stations close to the Northern border and limit ourselves to those essential in peacetime training operations."

"We do not want to accentuate anything that would look as though we contemplated passing away from the century-old principle that our Canadian border needs no defense. I think it would be very unfortunate if we did."

Pneumonia Sweeps Dust Storm Area

Physicians Alarmed by Spread of Illness in Western Oklahoma

BEAVER, Okla.—(AP)—Physicians fought to check the spread of respiratory illness in the Southwest drought region Sunday—with dust blanned by Red Cross officials as a contributing cause to six pneumonia deaths in a week.

"The persistent dust-laden air," said Dr. E. A. McGrew of the Beaver hospital, "is causing more and more infections of the respiratory tract and the more serious cases are surely the most fatal lung infections I have ever seen."

Three persons were dead and a dozen hospitalized here. Another dozen were ill at other parts of the Oklahoma-Pueblo area, two were dead in Seward county, Kansas, and one at Walsh, Colo., as silt clouds blew fitfully over the area.

One of the most critical cases in the hospital here was that of Miss Sadie Beaudoult, a nurse, who was ordered to bed 10 days ago by physicians after she had cared for dust patients for several weeks.

Physicians said the disease is unlike the ordinary form of pneumonia. The three who died here breathed naturally until they succumbed and each was ill for several days before death.

Cloth dust masks, soaked at by some, worn by others, were turned out by the hundreds at Red Cross headquarters in Wichita and Topeka, Kan., to be shipped to stricken communities. Officials said at least 100,000 were needed.

Showers fell in Nebraska, Oklahoma, eastern Kansas and Missouri Sunday, but missed the 18,000,000-acre dust bowl.

Beyond the Highways

I've sped through highways, smooth and wide
With scarce a hill or grade,
And stately trees on either side
Which cast a pleasant shade;
They led beside alluring seas,
And 'round the mountain's brow—
But not a single one of these
Can I remember now.
But old roads, and winding roads
That led nowhere at all,
Save where the rill slipped down the hill
And built a waterfall.
With hidden boulders here and there
One must look sharp to see,
And twists and turns among the ferns—
They all come back to me.
Full many a well paved thoroughfare
Leads on from town to town.
To delightful ways for those who are
To hurry up and down—
But not to them shall I return
When, leaving worldly strife
I watched the evening hearth log burn,
And journey back through life.
The old roads, the winding roads
That clambered up the steep—
Or lost to view, meandered through
The dusky forest deep.
To end—I never found out why—
In some beech-shaded glen:
To roads like these in hours of ease
Will I return again—Selected.

"New Birth" Topic of Hope Evangelist

Christ's Conversation With Nicodemus Is Revival Theme

In spite of threatening weather a good-sized audience assembled at the Tabernacle Sunday night to hear Miss Georgia Lewis. Her subject was, "The New Birth," based on the conversation Nicodemus had with Christ, as given in the 3rd chapter of John. She said:

"There are many many doctrines in the world today, in fact too many, but the doctrine of the New Birth, 'Ye must be born again' is undoubtedly Biblical. Jesus said to this good moral citizen, Nicodemus, 'Ye must be born again.' If the message had come to some outstanding sinner, we might have some excuse for not being born again, but Nicodemus was a good moral man. 'Don't wonder, don't marvel,' He told Nicodemus, 'that I say unto you, Ye must be born again.' Nicodemus could not understand until Christ told him that the new birth must be from above, a spiritual birth, an operation of God.

"We will discuss first the negative side of this doctrine tonight—what the New Birth is not. Many people are living under deception tonight and think they are saved when they are not. Why? Because they have never been born again. Being born again is not forming new resolutions. We can reform, quit sinning, drinking, gambling, etc., but unless we are born again we are going to hell. It is not being baptized. It takes more than water to wash away sins. You can go into the water a dry sinner and come out a wet one. It is not church membership. If there is one thing that people are hiding behind tonight it is church membership. You may belong to anybody's church but if you have not been born again you are on the way to hell. I am afraid that many a preacher is going to burn hell along with his congregation. This is hard saying but on the responsibility on the preacher who deceives his congregation regarding the New Birth.

"On the positive side, Peter says this being born again is not of the flesh, not by the will of man but by the will of God. When this new birth takes place in your life there is new life imparted. Our morality will not save us. Our own righteousness is as filthy rags in God's sight. You can't put a pig in the parlor but he is still a pig. How is this new birth produced? Jesus said 'Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.' It is by faith in God. Then we have that familiar text, John 3:16, 'For God so loved the World that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life.' If any man be in Christ he is a new creature; old things are passed away and behold all things are become new. It is not necessary that we put strings on you and say 'don't do this, or don't do that.' The desire for ungodly things passes away with the new birth. An operation by Christ in your heart will make you a new creature.

"Ask yourself the question, 'Have I been born again, am I right with God?' If not, you had better seek God 'Ye must be born again'."

ed at men who have either money or position to lose.

"Women have been using the law simply as a racket to extort large sums," he says. "Why, some men were sued by people they had never seen."

Mrs. Nicholson said succinctly, "There was no justification for such suits, as far as I could see."

broken hearts as do their breaking over a lost fiancée or a lost husband. And meanwhile, in 25 other states similar bills are being put through the jumps, many of them with good prospects of becoming law, according to their sponsors.

Other States Consider Laws
The states in which bills similar to that of Indiana and New York have been considered include: California, Oregon, Rhode Island, Texas, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Iowa, Nebraska, Kentucky, Vermont, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Oklahoma, Michigan, Tennessee, Minnesota, Ohio, Maryland, South Carolina, Florida, Illinois and Missouri.

The history of the bills in these states is varied; some have not yet come up for discussion in a few the bills have died in committee, but their sponsors promise to re-introduce them; and in others the bills have passed one house and gone on to the second.

One aspect of the movement has been the immediate and enthusiastic response of the public as reported by both Mrs. Nicholson and by State Senator John McNaboe of New York, who had long been planning his bill when Mrs. Nicholson's was announced.

Both of them have burned the midnight oil to read their mail and get it answered. There were so many demands for Mrs. Nicholson's bill she had to have 500 copies printed at her own expense after the state's supply ran out. Both of them report an almost negligible number of letters protesting this action.

Both bills abolish the right to collect money for alienation of affections, breach of promise, seduction and criminal conversation. Mrs. Nicholson's bill also outlaws the naming of co-respondents in divorce cases unless the adverse party enters a motion requesting it.

Penalties For Suing
Penalties are set in both bills for instituting heart balm actions. In Indiana fines from $100 to $1,000 are set, to which may be added imprisonment from one to five years. In New York anyone starting such actions, may be fined from $1,000 to $5,000, or imprisoned from one to five years, or both.

In discussing the bill before the New York senate McNaboe argued that heart balm suits are always aim-staging the smash number, "The Harlow High Steppers."

Interspersed throughout the show are such scenes as the Tiny Tot Parade, using 100 children for the story hour. The Vested Choir, the Quartette, the Hill Billy Scene and the Stars and Stripes Revue. Each of these are outstanding numbers and are deftly woven into the plot, so they become an actual part of the show.

"The World's All Right" is reported to be a better costumed production than any that has been staged in this community in a long time. A great many costumes are used in this production. Many different songs are used in the staging of this production. You are sure to cure your "blues" when you see "The World's All Right." Wherever this show has been staged it has been a sensational success and promises to be the high spot of entertainment in Hope, this season. No one can afford to miss attending "The World's All Right," on June 27 and 28. Watch for particulars in regard to the cast and other details.

charge him and that such action is a function of the governor alone, under the act creating the Penal Board.

Governor May Not Attend
Governor Futrell said he did not know whether he would "find the time" to meet with the board. Both the governor and Chairman Walter Helms agreed with the opinion of the attorney general as to the invalidity of the section of Act 10 of the 1934 second special session giving the board authority to discharge the superintendent.

Both questioned the legality of the board's acceptance of the resignation of A. G. Siedman last July and the appointment of Todhunter, but lawyers have pointed out that the board, under the original act, still has authority to appoint a superintendent with the advice and approval of the governor, and that Governor Futrell's failure to object constituted approval of the appointment.

Mrs. Joe Storch, secretary of the board, will be unable to attend the meeting because of injuries received in an automobile accident Saturday. Todhunter has announced he will seek a hearing before the board to make an explanation of the transactions three years ago which resulted in his "suspension."

Chevrolet to Add Motor Carryall

Store Delivery Car Week-Days—8-Passenger Sedan on Sunday

Chevrolet has announced the introduction of an innovation in transportation units, called the carryall suburban model, which can be used interchangeably for the hauling of merchandise or as a passenger vehicle seating eight persons. Wide acceptance of the new type body is predicted, because of its versatile utility. It is designed to fit the needs of owners of small businesses who primarily require a commercial vehicle, but who will use it also as a family car; and to appeal to schools, camps, clubs, hotels, and other purchasers whose first need is for a passenger vehicle of greater capacity than regular models, for ready use also for hauling baggage, supplies, and other loads.

The carryall suburban body is mounted on the Chevrolet 112-inch wheelbase chassis equipped with 5.30-17 tires. The new model carries a list price of $980.
For commercial purposes, the body provides a load space 75 inches long, 52 inches wide, by 51 inches high. Loading is through the rear, which is provided with a horizontally divided closure, the lower half dropping to serve as a sturdy tail gate, and the top half opening upward, its weight carried by a spring-balanced safety support.

As a passenger vehicle, the car seats eight persons, the front and rear seats holding three each, the middle seat two. Entrance is by the right front door, past a tilting coach-type single seat and an aisle alongside the middle seat. All except the front seats are readily removed or replaced, providing for the conversion of the vehicle for either commercial or passenger use. Quick-acting hold-down bolts are used to fasten the seats securely to metal plates set flush in the floor in appearance, the car is essentially a passenger car of the station wagon type, with round contours of body panels both at the sides and the rear giving the appearance of a sedan. A wide range of color combinations is available. The three large windows on each side of the car are fitted with manual ventilation controls; the two rear windows are mounted in rounded frames in the upper half of the back closure. The spring cushion seats are upholstered in high-grade imitation leather.

The chassis is of standard Chevrolet design, carrying the 70-horsepower Blue Flame engine, three-speed synchro-mesh transmission with silent second, cable-controlled brakes, and wire wheels.

a way to co-operate in this matter."

During the day Representative Dies, Democrat, Texas, co-author of the silver purchase act, predicted a continuation of the administration's present silver policy eventually would force international currency stabilization.
Belief was general that the Mexican government would urge the United States to ease its buying program just as China has asked in the past.

While experimenting with a combination of magnesium oxide and magnesium chloride, Dr. Howard Lukens of the University of Pennsylvania produced a cement with a tensile strength of 2000 pounds to the square inch. It is as hard as granite.

Mexico Disturbed by Rise in Silver

U. S. Policy Means Ruin,
Says Neighbor—Stabilization Asked

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Monetary troubles in Mexico, caused by world silver prices soaring after United States Treasury offers Sunday were taken directly to Secretary Morgenthau by representatives of the Southern republic.
President Roosevelt's first financial advisor conferred with Ambassador Castillo Najera and Roberto Lopez, assistant secretary of the Mexican Treasury who came to Washington when climbing silver prices forced Mexico to order the surrender of silver coins and to close banks over the week-end. With Morgenthau were Herman Oliphant, the Treasury's general counsel, and Herbert Feis, economic advisor to the State Department.

Officials of neither nation would discuss the meeting beyond indicating further conferences. Before the session, Lopez said "it would seem proper that both countries would find an agreement to stabilize the silver market."

While occupied with his work exploring 27,000 miles of cable along the South American coast, Captain Haine discovered three whales entangled in the cable.
